Queensbury School are looking to appoint a dynamic, innovative and creative Middle Leader to join a well-established, friendly and committed team. We are seeking an enthusiastic individual who is an outstanding classroom practitioner and has a passion for ensuring all pupils 'unleash their limitless potential'.

The successful candidate will be responsible for leading the Humanities Faculty (including History, Geography and RE) and for ensuring students receive outstanding outcomes and fully reach their potential. You will achieve this through rigorous analysis of data, the development of colleagues within your Faculty and working collaboratively with Staff across the school.

The successful candidate would be joining us at a very exciting time as currently we are part way through a partial new build project where we are building seven new state-of-the-art classrooms, three calm breakout spaces and a therapy room. We are also in the process of relocating our sixth form provision on to a brand new site. We are very excited about all these new investments and these will no doubt have positive impact on our environment and student's learning.

We are a specialist provision for students aged 11-19. Our staff take a creative approach in teaching pupils according to their educational needs, ensuring delivery of personalised curriculums in a way that maximises achievement and personal development.

You must be passionate and ambitious about special school provision and achieving the best for children and young people. Experience of working with young people who are working within P Levels to Level 1 Qualifications is essential.

Please note that only school application forms will be accepted, we will not read accompanying Curriculum Vitae (CV) or accept them instead of an application form.

The successful applicant will require an enhanced DBS check and will be subject to relevant pre-employment checks. Please note Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS) check to be paid by the successful candidate (approx. £50).
